A Window Into The Past Photography in a Whaling Port

One of the amazing things about this area's once-thriving whaling industry is how much of it was captured on film. This is no more evident than within the covers of A Window Back: Photography in a Whaling Port by Nicholas Whitman, published by Spinner Publications. Drawing from many private sources and the vast collections of the New Bedford Whaling Museum, the book is chock full of telling portraits of the immense whaling barks — a bulk of which were built right here in the heart of Mattapoisett — the ship builders, crew members, and outlying suburbs that they called home.

Broken down into concise categories and featuring a complete index of the many now-familiar photographers who pioneered the art of visual storytelling, Mr. Whitman's volume is an invaluable addition to any local history buff's collection — and a must for any true whaling enthusiast.

Although the primary focus remains New Bedford, several photos are devoted to some of the more prominent Mattapoisett whaling barks, including two classic Albert Cook Church shots of the Wanderer — the more infamous one of the vessel grounded on the rocks off Cuttyhunk, and a more majestic view of the ship sailing off into the sunset.

There are also great photos of the bark Sunbeam, another Mattapoisett vessel, including one truly amazing shot of crew members "cutting in" to their recent catch to haul aboard the blubber and whale meat.

The book also manages to provide a rare glimpse of the people behind the industry that became their way of life. Stark, serious portraits of ship builders, whale boat workers, and area businessmen and their wives and children offer a jarring dose of realism to the otherwise lifeless and fading sepia-toned renderings of whaling barks and local docks.

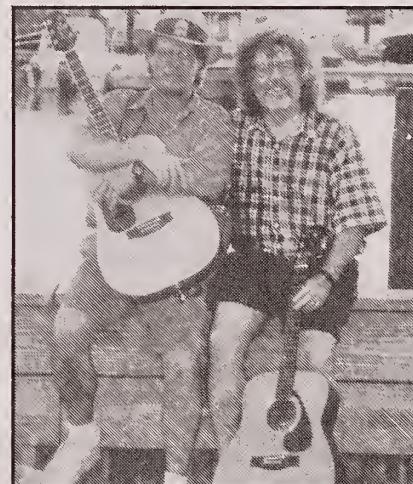

At an impressive ten and a half by nine and a half inches, this coffee table-sized volume includes many full page photographs in sharp sepia tone and makes for a sure-fire conversation piece in any home. The paperback edition of this book is now available at Seaport Pharmacy in Mattapoisett for $18.95. A clothbound edition is also available by writing to Spinner Publications, P.O. Box 1801, New Bedford, MA 02741.

Mattapoisett's Harbor Days

Annual Town Event This Weekend

This Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 15 - 17, the Mattapoisett Lions Club is sponsoring the Eleventh Annual Harbor Days festival at the Town Wharf and historic Shipyard Park. As the organization is non-profit, all proceeds will go to charity, such as the Massachusetts Lions Eye Research, local community projects, and other charitable causes.

The event will be host to over 90 arts and crafts booths, including the Lions Eye Mobile which will provide free glaucoma, blood pressure, and hearing screenings on Saturday and Sunday. An original oil painting of The Wanderer by local artist Rod Gould has been commissioned by the Lions as the prize in a raffle this year. Tickets — which are $1 each, or three for $2 — will be

Above: Couto and Mulligan, a raucous local duo, will be providing their own brand of music and mayhem during the Harbor Days festival this Friday night, between 7:00 and 10:00 pm at Shipyard Park.

*On the cover: The bark Wanderer was the last whaling vessel built in Mattapoisett in 1878 on the very site where today stands Shipyard Park, the location of this weekend's Harbor Days celebration. ### Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting

July 12, 1994

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, July 12 at 7:00 pm by Chairman John N. DeCosta. Also present were Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney, Selectman Paul E. Lambalot, and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

At 7:00 pm, the board met with 12-year-old Andrew Murray of Brandt Island Road to award him a commendation for having helped locate Holly Fletcher, also of Brandt Island Road, during a search and rescue mission. Andrew was commended for helping find Holly and was presented with a special plaque from the board.

Under the Executive Secretary's report, Ms. Adams noted that Harbormaster Steve Mach had asked her about power washing and painting the bath house at the town's bathing beach and also mentioned perhaps painting the gazebo at Shipyard Park later in the summer. "Steve is willing to have the part-time people working with him paint the bath house," Ms. Adams said. "But I thought the board would like to wait on the gazebo until after the busy season."

The Selectman agreed to allow Mr. Mach to repaint the bath house and would consider their options for the gazebo at a later date.

Ms. Adams also noted that the Department of Fisheries and Wildlife had informed her that the board needed to designate a person to pick up dead animals — namely deer — from the road when hit by vehicles. The board agreed to name current Dog Officer Brian Nunes as the town's designee for this purpose.

Lastly, the board approved via majority vote — with Chairman DeCosta abstaining — that town employees who also work as call fire fighters are not paid double when called on runs during their normal working hours. The Town Accountant noted that in some cases they were paid both for their fire calls and their normal full-time position.

Ms. Adams also wished to publicly thank Elizabeth Kunz and Deanne Girouard, both residents of Water Street, for planting flowers both at the town's bathing beach and Shipyard Park. "We'd like to thank them for their efforts and the flowers look beautiful," she said. The board also thanked Ms. Adams and Secretary Melody Mills for planting flowers at Ned's Point.

At 8:00 pm, the board met with resident Stephanie Florea regarding her concerns over Dog Officer Brian Nunes and the board's recent decision that he was not delinquent in his duties in removing her dog from her property. Last month Mr. Nunes' picked up Ms. Florea's rotweiller, Venus, from her property and took her to the New Bedford Animal Rescue League as she did not have proper identification. Upon being retrieved, Venus died a short time later having contracted a disease from the pound.

Ms. Florea began by asking the board what Mr. Nunes' proper procedures are for taking untagged dogs into custody.

Selectman Mahoney noted that the board does not dictate specific procedures for the Dog Officer to follow, he simply operates under existing state law. Although Mr. Nunes is under the Board of Selectmen's jurisdiction, they do not govern his every decision.

"Then tell me how is it that (Mr. Nunes) claimed he wasn't at my house that day when a police officer called to ask if he had picked up my dog?" asked Ms. Florea. "I didn't find out my dog had been taken until 11:00 that night."

Ms. Florea also claimed that a neighbor — whose affidavit was submitted to the board when they were considering possible action against Mr. Nunes — said he offered to take the dog into his custody and had identified her as Ms. Florea's pet. But Mr. Nunes was adamant about taking the animal into custody.

"We certainly took everything that was submitted to us into account," agreed Selectman Mahoney, "but we made our decision based on our best assessment. Brian Nunes has been a longtime employee of the town, and we aren't just willing to terminate him because of a single complaint."

Selectman Mahoney also noted that another neighbor was having a birthday party on the afternoon in question, and was concerned about the dog running loose. Mr. Nunes was asked to respond to her call.

"If I understand you correctly, you're saying that he doesn't answer to anyone other than himself," Ms. Florea contested. "According to the town's (by-law), the dog must be taken into custody unless it is in the immediate 'control of some person.' My neighbor offered to take the dog and restrain it."

But Selectman Mahoney said that would then render the town liable if the animal bit or attacked anyone. The statute, although not readily apparent, implies that the dog must be in the control of its owner.

Several other Mattapoisett residents were present and voiced their deep concern over the unfortunate situation. "I've known (Ms. Florea's) dogs for a long time, and this is the first problem I've ever encountered with them," said neighbor Greg Sherman. "It certainly sounds to me like (Mr. Nunes) was a little loose in handling this situation properly. I think the reason we're all here tonight is that everyone in this room could be back here under similar circumstances if something isn't done about this right now."

Many residents agreed that Ms. Florea should have been notified via a card or sticker on her front door to inform her of the whereabouts of her dog. And since the police department was responding to a medical emergency at the time of the incident, it wasn't logged until later that evening, making it very difficult for Ms. Florea to locate her missing animal.

"I think we all agree that looking toward the future, Mr. Nunes should notify residents when their dogs are taken into custody," agreed Selectman Lambalot. "It's unfortunate it wasn't done in this case."

Despite the board's determination to stand by their former decision, several residents took the opportunity to voice their obvious dissatisfaction. As residents and taxpayers, they felt the Dog Officer should have been a little more compassionate and understanding — especially when he knew who the dog belonged to according to eyewitness reports.

"I'm here because I have some questions and I was hoping Mr. Nunes would be present to answer them," Ms. Florea said. "This man is doing what he wants and you're covering up for him. When I called looking for my dog at night, the police phoned him at 8:00 and he said he was never at my house ... although my neighbor told me he was there. Later on, he remembered having taken my dog to the New Bedford shelter."

Everyone agreed that whatever the Dog Officer's procedures were, they should be followed to the letter in order to avoid a similar incident like this one. "Most of us are here because we have some problems and concerns with Mr. Nunes' methods," said Judith Kaeterle of Fairhaven, a friend of Ms. Florea who assisted in locating her missing pet. "He must have a certain procedure to follow. Please don't insult our intelligence by saying he doesn't."

Though several questionable points were addressed by the residents present, the board was unflinching. "You may draw any conclusion you wish, you're entitled to believe what you want and we're entitled to stand by our decision," said Selectman Mahoney.

But the Selectmen did agree to take several suggestions into consideration — including having Mr. Nunes keep an accurate daily log, making sure he places notification at any residence where animals have been taken into custody, and notifying the police department when he takes an animal into custody.

"We appreciate your recommendations and plan to take steps to implement them," said Chairman DeCosta.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they voted to adjourn for the evening at 9:03 pm.

Marion Selectmen's Meeting Minutes of July 5, 1994

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, July 5 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Loretta B. Schaefer. Also present were Selectman Albert E. Winters, Selectman Jonathan "Jody" Dickerson, Executive Secretary Ray E. Pickles, and Secretary Helene Craver.

Chairman Schaefer noted that there were employee status change forms for the Town's six non-union employees, reflecting a 3.5 percent rate increase approved by the Annual Town Meeting. The six employees are Mr. Pickles, Police Chief Brian J. Scott, DPW Superintendent Robert C. Zora, Town Accountant Karen Gomez, Harbormaster George Jennings, and Secretary Helene Craver.

The board reviewed correspondence from Town Counsel, who informed the board that the Police Department contract complies with his notes as to all changes agreed to by the union and the Town. Chairman Schaefer said the contract should be signed on July 19.

After reviewing a memo from the Planning Board regarding the Town's acceptance of a drainage basin on Tucker Lane, Mr. Pickles said that there were two basins, one of which is still owned by the developer, which the Planning Board should request be turned over to the Town. Ms. Schaefer added that the acceptance of the basins would require Town Meeting action.

The board then read a memo from Debra Blanchette, Town Clerk, who recommended a 3.5 percent rate increase for the registrars, effective July 1. This increase would raise the hourly rate from $7.25 to $7.50. Chairman Schaefer moved the rate increase.

Selectman Winters asked if the hourly rate was consistent with the hourly rate of the other part-time workers. Mr. Pickles said that the hourly rate was less than the other permanent part-time workers, but that, in many other area towns, the registrars are volunteers. Mr. Pickles explained that the Marion registrars also do the census. The motion was thereby carried unanimously.

The board discussed a request from the West End Day Nursery of New Bedford, Inc. to bring sixty children and nineteen adults to Silvershell Beach on July 14. Selectman Dickerson said that there were only two lifeguards available then and this may cause problems. Selectman Winters said that it would be reasonable to request that such a group provide funding for additional lifeguards for safety reasons. Mr. Pickles said that the beach quiets down after the first two weeks in August. Chairman Schaefer said that she will draft a letter suggesting that the visit take place at the end of August and that the group support the funding for additional lifeguards.

A letter from the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-Op, Inc. notifying the board of third-year funding for the Soft Second Mortgage Program was discussed. Lee Craver said that three mortgages were in the process at this time and the new funding would allow for five to eight more, depending on the price of the houses. Mr. Craver credited Representative William Straus for assisting in the additional funding.

The board reviewed a request from Mary Ann Ashe to canvass the Town House staff regarding a "Fun Day" and to plan the event during the working day. Ms. Schaefer said that she felt it was inappropriate to pay the staff to plan a party for themselves. Selectman Winters said that he sees no problem with the canvass.

At 7:30 pm, the board met with Marine Resources Commissioner James W. Feeney and Harbormaster George Jennings regarding appeals to the board not to cancel mooring privileges for seventeen individuals who had not paid the mooring fees and late charges by the May 30 deadline. Chairman Schaefer said that, in order to have a safe, organized harbor, the Marine Resources Commission and Harbormaster had devised a fee payment schedule in July, 1993. Ms. Schaefer said that the payment schedule was developed because the Harbormaster and his clerical staff had been spending an inordinate amount of time acting as bill collectors.

Ms. Schaefer then said that the reapplication forms had clearly stated that mooring fees paid after May 15 would carry a $100 penalty and fees not paid by May 30 would result in termination of the permit and cancellation.

of the mooring. Ms. Schaefer explained that the last person on the waiting list who had been granted a mooring in the inner harbor had waited ten years. Ms. Schaefer said that the moorings in other areas did not have such extensive waiting lists and these people would be able to reapply for another mooring in the area.

Mooring owner Horace C. Bailey met with the board accompanied by his daughter, Margherita Baldwin, who explained that Mr. Bailey had every intention of paying the fees. Ms. Baldwin said that the bill had been mailed to her father's Marion home, forwarded to his New York address, and then forwarded to wherever he may be staying. Ms. Baldwin said that the approved bills were then sent back to Marion to be paid. Ms. Baldwin objected to the Town "playing hard ball" and said that they were people acting in good faith.

Mr. Jennings said that the situation was unfortunate, but last July they had two hundred outstanding bills and twice sent out two hundred certified letters, which had resulted in this change in policy. Ms. Schaefer said that this is very difficult for the board, but they want to do the fair thing and not make exceptions. Ms. Baldwin said exceptions had already been made, as some people who were delinquent had been called by the Town House staff and told they would lose their moorings. Ms. Schaefer said that people had called their friends; however, everyone had received the same information and none of the notices which had been mailed had been returned to the Town House.

Selectman Winters said that the basic problem is the process in place took six weeks from the time Mr. Bailey received his mail and responded to it. Mr. Winters said this process is inadequate for the need. Selectman Winters moved to deny the appeal.

Mr. Bailey objected. Selectman Dickerson said that the system was designed to open up the waiting list for people who had been waiting for a mooring; people have to show some responsibility and he agrees with Selectman Winters and seconds the motion. The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. and Ms. John Fife met with the board to appeal the cancellation of Mr. Fife's mother's mooring. Mr. Fife said that their story is somewhat similar to Mr. Bailey's in that he was laid off from work in early May and went to Florida for two weeks. Mr. Fife said that he would be happy to pay the late fee. Mr. Fife said that he had never received the fee schedule from his mother. Ms. Schaefer said that the form states clearly when the fees are due.

Mr. Fife said that he didn't realize the mooring could be cancelled and this was an oversight. Ms. Schaefer said that this is a difficult lesson for all of us. Mr. Fife said that a stern warning was enough of a lesson. Ms. Schaefer said that the stern warning was issued in May. Selectman Winters said that people had six weeks to pay the fee. Mr. Fife objected that he had some financial problems this Spring. Ms. Schaefer said that, for future reference, when there are financial difficulties, arrangements may be made. More discussion followed with Ms. Fife joining in to state that when money is tight some bills get put on the bottom of the pile. Mr. Fife said that he was too proud to ask his mother to pay the bill.

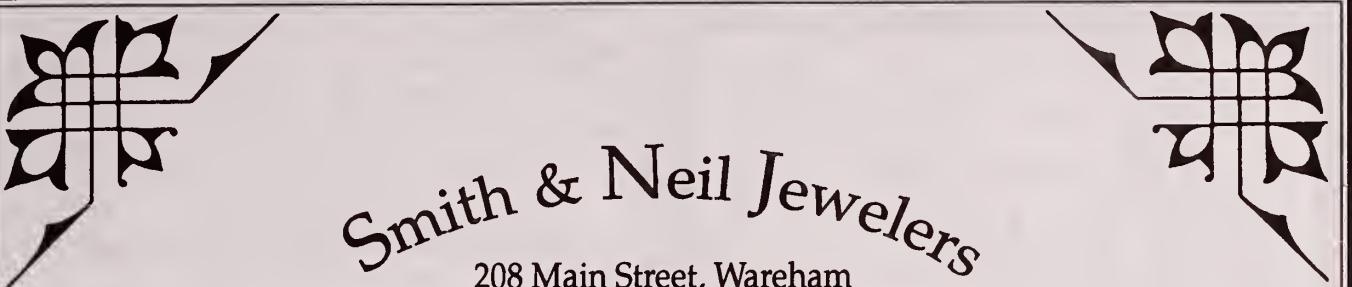

Mr. Feeney said that some people are over stressing the value of the permit. Mr. Jennings said that they had not heard from Mr. Fife about his difficulties. Selectman Dickerson moved that permit #772 be terminated, the motion was carried unanimously. Ms. Schaefer explained that there are still mooring spaces available in the outer harbor.

The board met with Dennis Klimavich, who explained that his wife paid the bills and this one had been overlooked. Mr. Klimavich said that he would haul his mooring, but that the board should look into people who have four or five moorings and rent them. Mr. Jennings said that some people have over one hundred commercial moorings. Mr. Feeney said that the commercial moorings give someone on a waiting list an option and that they are

Ms. Brooke Lipsitt next came before the board and stated that she was curious to know what kind of tales the board expects to hear. She said she pays her bills and completely forgot about the mooring. Ms. Lipsitt asked if there were other moorings available in Planting Island Cove. Mr. Jennings said that he recommended an application be filed immediately and he will check into the mooring situation. Ms. Lipsitt said that she is a city council member in Newton and the board should have drawn up criteria so people don't drive down to Marion with no hope of changing the cancellations. Ms. Lipsitt said that other people got called and she doesn't get the local paper, which makes it more difficult to comply with the rules.

The board also met with Leita Hagemann Luchetti and William Woodason regarding to hear similar complaints about the revoking of their mooring permits. Chairman Schaefer moved to cancel mooring #9106, which was seconded and carried unanimously. Mr. Jennings thanked the board for their support.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:37 pm.

Editor's Note: During the summer months of July and August, both the Marion and Rochester Boards of Selectmen are only meeting every other week. As The Wanderer did not publish during the week of July 4, the preceding is an abridged version of last week's minutes, pending final approval of the board on July 19.

A Special Town Meeting has been called in Rochester for Monday, July 18 beginning at 7:30 pm in the auditorium of Memorial School on Pine Street. Voters will be asked to consider six articles — three money items, one by-law change, and two land acceptances — as included on the warrant.

Article 1 asks voters to approve a $2,000 appropriation to support the Sexual Assault Program of the New Bedford Women's Center, Inc. During the Annual Town Meeting, there was some disagreement as to whether this appropriation would be considered a donation or an exchange for services under a mutual agreement. Town Counsel deemed that Rochester should draw up a written agreement with the Women's Center in order to allow the appropriation. Said agreement was signed last month.

The longest article on the rather short warrant is Article 2, which asks voters to adopt a by-law regarding the denial, revocation or suspension of local licenses and permits for non-payment of local taxes and fees. The five sections of this by-law, along with related sub-sections, are fully detailed on the Special Town Meeting warrant. The overall enforcement of the by-law would allow the Town to deny any application or revoke or suspend any local license or permit to any person or business who has not paid outstanding local taxes, fees, assessments, betterments, or other municipal charges.

An appropriation of $12,000 is being requested under Article 3, to pay for an oil spill clean up at the town's Fire Station. Though the total bill is just over $20,000, monies have been transferred from available funds to cover the balance.

Voters will be asked under Article 4 to transfer a parcel of land consisting of 14,000 square feet from the Rochester First Congregational Church to the Board of Selectmen to be held for the purpose of disposition and to authorize the Board of Selectmen to sell or otherwise transfer said parcel of land on such terms to be in the best interests of the town.

Article 5 will ask voters to raise and appropriate a sum of money (as yet undetermined) for the purpose of performing repairs and improvements to Hiller's Bridge and related road work on Mary's Pond Road. Said money will be used in conjunction with monies previously allocated for this project.

Lastly, Article 6 will ask voters if they wish to accept Bradford Lane and Annie's Way as public ways within Bradford Estates.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Now that the 1994 edition of the League of Women Voters Telephone Book has been delivered to every postal patron in Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester and to every advertiser, I want to thank you and the people who nominated me for The Wanderer Keel Award.

I was very pleased that you recognized the community service effort of the League of Women Voters Telephone Book and want to state that although the award was in my name, it really belongs to the League and the wonderful advertisers who support its publication. Many of them have advertised since the first edition!

The League began the Phone Book as a community service effort as we all realized we could benefit from a larger-type listing and advertisers whose offerings were readily available and often directed to the needs of the local communities. It has surpassed our hopes and has become extremely valuable to the residents and businesses alike. And the League has benefitted so that we can support many more voter service and citizen education efforts than ever before.

To the Editor:

The recent passage of our state's version of the federal motor-voter bill is good news for voters. The Massachusetts Motor-Voter Law, known as Chapter 475 of the Acts of 1993 and signed by Governor William Weld on January 14, 1994, provides many new registration opportunities for potential voters. One of the first provisions to take effect provides for mail-in or postcard registration.

As of July 1, 1994, new voters are able to register without the need to come to Town Hall. The new registrant will execute an affidavit, available at libraries, workplaces, and other public locations, which is mailed to the local elections officers in their home town. This new avenue for voter registration is intended to ease others who are unable to make it to Town Hall to register. Confirmation of the registration will be sent to the applicant by the Registrars.

Starting next year, new voters will be able to register at the Registry of Motor Vehicles, human service agencies such as the Department of Public Health and Welfare, and other registration sites designated by state and federal law. Again, the intent is to make registration available to new voters where they work, visit, or otherwise conduct business. The hope is that the Motor-Voter Law will prompt tens of thousands of unregistered Massachusetts citizens to join the voter rolls and participate in the electoral process at the local, state and federal levels.

One of the key features of the new law is that the ultimate decision for adding eligible voters to the rolls lies with your local elections officers. State and local elections officers worked very hard to retain control at the local level to guard against fraud.

Another key feature of the Motor-Voter Law is the establishment of a Central Voter Registry (CVR), a statewide, computerized voter registration list. Massachusetts joins a dozen or so other states that have a statewide voters' list. Town Clerks from across Massachusetts have strongly endorsed this computerized listing as essential to prohibiting voter registration fraud.

Citizens will see many changes in the way our state registers voters during the next year or so. Be assured that your local elections officers are committed to a smooth implementation of Chapter 475 and ask your patience as we move through the process. Most importantly, I urge you to participate on election day, whether it's a chance to

Marion Town Clerk

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to a Letter to the Editor that appeared in your June 24, 1994 edition from Ms. Barbara D. Burr of Marion. I fail to understand the significance of my being employed or the name of my employer in Ms. Burr's response to Ms. Chamberlain, as I was never mentioned in Ms. Chamberlain's Letter to the Editor.

My comments, made to the appointing authority (Board of Selectmen) and not in the guise of a Letter to the Editor, were made on behalf of both candidates for the position. A draft of my comments to the Selectmen, on both candidates, was mailed as a courtesy to Ms. Burr the week before it was delivered to the Selectmen.

It was not a personal attack, but a recount of the record of service and qualifications. I felt it my duty to comment, because I serve as Chairman of the Conservation Commission. The better qualified the Commission, the better we may serve the people of Marion. As Henry David Thoreau said, "Let every man make known what kind of government would command his respect, and that will be one step towards obtaining it."

I stand behind my earlier comments concerning qualifications, conflicts of interest, attendance, training, education, etc. and invite anyone interested to review the records, which are public domain.

Differences of opinion and interpretation of the Wetlands Protection Act do occur. My support for the other more qualified candidate does not stem from any differences of opinion with Ms. Burr, but on qualifications and the dynamics of the decision making process. A review of the votes by the Commission would indicate that Ms. Burr and I have voted more often than not the same way on the issues before the Conservation Commission. I would fight for the right of Ms. Burr, or any other member of the Conservation Commission, to disagree with the Chairman, or other members of the Commission.

If by all the discussion Ms. Burr's or other members' performances improve and the Commission functions to better serve the residents of the town, then all of this will have served a useful purpose.

In the future, I hope that the Board of Selectmen

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY

You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance - mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too.

Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a fast sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work to undertake, see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home more saleable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.

Call Bob at Fisher & Rocha, Inc., 758-6738 or stop in at our office at 17 Fairhaven Road, Mattapoisett.

Rochester Resident to Ride for Diabetes

On Sunday, July 10, Jennifer DeMoranville of Rochester will begin a seven-day, 500-mile bicycle tour around New England to benefit the American Diabetes Association. Jen will join cyclists from across the country as they ride from Framingham, MA, up the coast of Maine, through the White Mountains over New Hampshire's Kancamagus Highway, to the Green Mountains of Vermont, back through New Hampshire before returning to Massachusetts on July 16.

Jen has set herself an impressive goal of $1,000 to be raised before the start of the ride in July. That amounts to raising $143 for each of the ride's days, $250 for each of the four states she will ride through, or $2 for each of the 500 miles that she will ride across New England.

The New England Classic is more than a challenging bicycle tour. Participants will be on the road helping to find a cure for diabetes and its complications.

Marion Gears Up To Save Music Hall

The Music Hall Restoration Committee held its first meeting recently to begin the demanding and exciting project of revitalizing the Music Hall which is the red brick building at the corner of Front and Cottage Streets. Many of the volunteers who offered their help with this project were unable to be at their first meeting.

Raising money from private, corporate and foundation sources requires a solid background of information about current users, prospective users, and new uses of the building. For this reason, the committee is asking the citizens of Marion and beyond for their ideas on how the Music Hall can serve them as a regular meeting place or as a special events hall.

There is an auditorium, a stage, an organ, a kitchen, and other spaces which lend themselves to all kinds of events. Every age group is encouraged to let their imaginations soar and then contact the committee by letter or write to the Board of Selectmen at 748-3520. Someone from the committee will be out to visit you within two weeks to follow up on your suggestion.

Renovations will include improving the kitchen and bathroom facilities and making the building accessible to the handicapped. Currently, the VFW and Ladies Auxiliary, Scouts, Coast Guard Auxiliary, and a music group use the building on a regular basis, but weddings, Christmas parties, movies, concerts, a coffee house, and Saturday night hops are all also possible events to be held at the location. Marion has a jewel in the heart of town, so

Circus Returns to Mattapoisett

The Mattapoisett Lions Club announced recently that they will be bringing Vidbel's Olde Tyme Circus back to Mattapoisett on Tuesday, August 2 for two performances at 6:00 and 8:15 pm. The familiar red and white striped big top will be set up that morning for the one day engagement.

The Lions Club selected Vidbel's Circus as a fund raising project because of their reputation for presenting outstanding family entertainment. Joyce Vidbel, the only woman in the United States to own and manage a traveling tent circus, is very proud of this reputation. As a grandparent, she is very much aware of the shortage of family entertainment which is available at affordable prices. One of her favorite statements is: "My circus is simply our families entertaining your families for two hours on circus day."

When Vidbel's Circus is not on tour, their winter quarters are in Windham, NY in the Catskill Mountain region. The eleventh annual tour of Vidbel's Circus includes performances in eleven states along the East Coast. The season runs from late April until early October. One of the more memorable circus dates was a recent trip to Martha's Vineyard off the coast of Massachusetts. The circus was loaded on barges and towed by ocean-going tug boats, a trip that took over four hours.

Every Vidbel's Circus date is sponsored by a local organization such as the PTA, fire department, church, Chamber of Commerce, Little League, etc. The sponsor received 50 percent of all reduced price tickets sold before 12:00 noon on circus day, and a percentage of tickets purchased at the event.

Members of the Mattapoisett Lions Club are selling reduced price tickets at a savings of $2 each. The Vidbel Circus performance is different every year ... however, the show always includes acts which have been favorites of circus goers for many generations, including elephants, clowns, aerialists, trained dogs, tumblers, a lively circus band, and much more.

1870 her grandparents Martha (Parsons) and J. Lewis Stackpole, Sr. purchased a former blacksmith shop on the harbor west of the town docks and built a summer residence, "The Sands," which became a local landmark and the center of summer activity for four generations until its final destruction by Hurricane Carol in August, 1954.

As a young woman, "Stacky," under the tutelage of her father, was an avid sailor competing against seasoned adults in her Herreshoff Buzzards Bay 15-footer, TRICOON. She won the Beverly Yacht Club (Marion) Championship in 1916. Later, in the 1920's and 1930's, she would crew for her father on his larger racing yachts, including his famous 10-meter boat, ASTRA.

Educated at Winsor School in Boston and graduating from Oldfields School in Maryland in 1922, she worked in banking and the travel business in Boston. Married to Neilson Abeel on August 22, 1936 at St. Philip's Church in Mattapoisett, she moved to Morristown, NJ. The couple later had three children: Daphne (1937), Neilson, Jr. (1940) and James Stackpole (1942), and continued the tradition of spending summers at "The Sands."

Widowed in 1949, she embarked on a career of social service and travel business, which allowed her to satisfy a desire to travel around the world. After her marriage in 1969 to Harold Hilton of Stonington, CT, she continued to celebrate her birthday in Mattapoisett every summer.

Besides her three children, she is survived by two grandchildren — Neilson Abeel, Jr. of Portland, Oregon and Maud Alice Abeel of New York, New York. Her brothers, J. Lewis Stackpole, Jr. (1902-1982) and Richard Stackpole (1911-1993) predeceased her, as did Mr. Hilton in 1981.

Marion Water Department

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Marion Water Department are concerned about the lead in your drinking water. Although most homes have very low levels of lead in their drinking water, some homes in the community have lead above the EPA action level of 15 part per billion (ppb), or 0.015 milligrams of lead per liter of water (mg/l).

Lead is a common metal found throughout the environment in lead-based paint, air, soil, household dust, food, certain types of pottery, porcelain and pewter, and water. Lead can pose a significant risk to your health if too much enters your body. Lead builds up in the body over many years and can cause damage to the brain, red blood cells, and kidneys. The greatest risk is to young children and pregnant women. Amounts of lead that won't hurt adults can slow down normal mental and physical development of growing bodies.

In addition, a child at play often comes into contact with sources of lead contamination — like dirt and dust — that rarely affect an adult. It is important to wash a child's hands and toys often and to try to make sure they put only food in their mouths.

Lead in drinking water, although rarely the sole cause of lead poisoning, can significantly increase a person's total lead exposure, particularly by the exposure of infants who drink baby formulas and concentrated juices that are mixed with water. The EPA estimates that drinking water can make up twenty percent or more of a person's total exposure to lead.

Lead is unusual among drinking water contaminants in that it seldom occurs naturally in water supplies like rivers and lakes. Lead enters drinking water primarily as a result of corrosion, or wearing away, of materials containing lead in the water distribution system and household plumbing. These materials include lead-based solder used to join copper pipe, brass- and chrome-plated brass faucets, and, in some cases, pipes made of lead that connect your house to the water main (service lines). In 1986, Congress banned the use of lead solder containing greater than 0.1 percent lead and restricted lead content of faucets, pipes, and other plumbing materials to 8.0 percent.

When water stands in lead pipes or plumbing systems containing lead for several hours or more, the lead may dissolve into your drinking water. This means the first water drawn from the tap in the morning, or later in the afternoon when returning from work or school, can contain fairly high levels of lead.

Despite our best efforts mentioned earlier to control water corrosivity and remove lead from the water supply, lead levels in some homes and buildings can be high. To find out whether you need to take action in your own home, have your drinking water tested to determine if it contains excessive concentrations of lead. Testing the water is essential, because you cannot see, taste or smell lead in drinking water. Some local laboratories that can provide this service include:

Aquatec, Inc., 150 Herman Melville Boulevard, New Bedford, MA 02740, Tel. 990-3400; or Energy and Environment Engineering, Inc., 35 Medford Street, Somerville, MA 02143, Tel. 617-666-5500.

If a water test indicates that the drinking water drawn from the tap in your home contains lead above 15 ppb, you should take the following precautions:

- Let the water run from the tap before using it for drinking or cooking any time the water in a faucet has gone unused for more than six hours.
- Try not to cook with or drink water from the hot water tap. Hot water can dissolve more lead more quickly than cold water.
- Remove loose lead solder and debris from the plumbing materials installed in newly-constructed homes or homes in which the plumbing has been recently replaced.

- If your copper pipes are joined with lead solder that has been installed illegally since it was banned in 1986, notify the plumber who did the work and request that he or she replace the lead solder with lead-free solder.
- Determine whether or not the service line that connects your home or apartment to the water main is made of lead.
- Have an electrician check your wiring. If grounding wires from the electrical system are attached to your pipes, corrosion may be greater.
- Purchase or lease a home treatment device.

Home treatment devices are limited in that each treats only

Marion Art Center

MAC Theater News

"The Baker's Wife," a musical originally scheduled for July 21 - 30 at the Marion Art Center has been cancelled due to circumstances beyond the MAC's control. However, "The No-Frills Revue" will be produced in its place.

Directed by Paul Sardinha, this bright musical comedy features Suzanne Paquette, J. J. Mattson, Anne Schenck, Michael Corrigan, and Christopher Mack.

"The No-Frills Revue" is a fast-paced, one-act rollercoaster of music, song and dance that takes satiric pokes at contemporary life; college reunions, supermarket lines, love, plus an updated version of the classic "Who's On First" sketch, all intertwined with fourteen original songs including the intriguing "West Side Story," as written by Jerry Herman, the sophisticated "Annie" by Stephen Sondheim, and the modern version of "If I Had A Hammer."

The revue was conceived and written by some of the musical geniuses of our time: Michael Abbott, Douglas Bernstein, Martin Charnin, Ronny Graham, Marvin Hamlisch and Brian Lasser, to mention a few. "The No-Frills Revue" was presented at the Marion Art Center

Rehearsals are now underway for "Narcissus and Echo," an original musical comedy/farce loosely based on some Greek myths. This production is directed by Scott Correia and will be produced the last weekend in August and the first weekend in September.

A new publication with forms, sample letters, and tables of factual information is available for student athletes. It takes them step by step through the process of getting an athletic scholarship and includes college and conference listings.
